Security

Badge Scanning and Data Collection

- As an attendee, you acknowledge that your badge will contain a QR code. Event staff may scan your badge at the entrance to the event. This is purely to identify your badge type and event access eligibility; no data is transferred as a result of badge scanning.
- All attendees must strictly adhere to the access limitations defined by their badge type. Attempting to enter restricted exhibition or conference areas without proper authorization is a violation of GSOF security policy and may result in removal from the event and revocation of credentials.
- The QR code on your badge may also be scanned using a “lead retrieval” device. As an attendee, you agree that by allowing your badge to be scanned by an exhibitor at the event, you consent to the following information being shared with the scanning organization:
 - Rank / Prefix
 - First and Last Name
 - Title
 - Company / Organization
 - Registration Type
 - Email Address
 - Work Location (City, State, Zip Code, Country)

This is similar to providing them with your business card. Any attendee may decline that their badge be scanned for lead retrieval purposes.

Export Control

- Visitors should be aware that export control regulations may apply to exhibits based upon both U.S. legislation and legislation from the territory of origin of the exhibitor. Such legislation or regulations may cover the exportation of goods, the transfer of technology, the provision of technical assistance overseas, and activities connected with trade in controlled goods. Exhibitors whose activities may be impacted by such legislation or regulations must ensure they have the necessary licenses and mechanisms in place.

- Any visitor who, at the sole discretion of the organizer, is deemed to be engaging in controlled business or activity during the exhibition and who does not have relevant trade control licenses may be subject to action on the part of the organizers, including revocation of the application to attend and expulsion from the event. The relevant authorities will be informed of any such activity, which may result in legal action being taken against the visitor by these authorities. Visitors expelled from the event will have no claim for redress against the organizers nor any refund for loss of fees.

Liability

By attending this event, you accept that GSOF is not responsible for any accidents, illnesses, or injuries incurred. While GSOF provides a professionally managed security environment, attendees acknowledge that participation in defense-sector events may inherently include exposure to physical or cyber threats. GSOF is not liable for incidents caused by the acts of third parties or nation-state threat actors.

Wellness Agreement

Any public space where other people are present holds an inherent risk of exposure to communicable diseases. GSOF or any of its affiliates, including partners and sponsors, directors, officers, employees, agents, contractors, volunteers, or sponsored venues, will take all legal, prudent, and advisable measures to reduce the risk of virus/illness transmission between people while attending this event. Despite our best efforts, we will be unable to reduce the level of risk to zero.

By attending this event, I agree to assume all risk related to exposure voluntarily and agree not to hold GSOF or any of their affiliates, including partners and sponsors, directors, officers, employees, agents, contractors, volunteers, or sponsored venues liable should I contract an illness or should anything else happen to me during my participation in this event. I will take necessary precautions while at the event, including, but not limited to, engaging in appropriate social distancing, minimizing face touching, and frequently washing hands.
